

Rhys Roth, Co-Executive Director

Rhys serves as lead organizer for Climate Solutions' annual Harvesting Clean Energy conferences. He also coordinates the Harvesting Clean Energy Network, which brings together agriculture, rural development, clean energy and utility organizations to promote policies to strengthen rural communities by expanding clean energy production and markets in the Northwest.

Rhys also leads Climate Solutions' Poised for Profit in Clean Energy program, engaging the Northwest high technology community in marshalling the region's talents and resources to build a world-class clean energy industry.

He received his Master's degree in Environmental Studies in 1990 from The Evergreen State College, and speaks before a wide range of audiences on global warming and solutions.
